100P 3 Shelf ANSI B Refill Kit

The R-SICK was specifically designed as a flexible austere and prolonged field care surgical instrument storage and recovery system tray sequentially set up to prepare the proceduralists for rapid incision, spreading, damage control, and closure. Complex, emergent procedures surgical airways, hemorrhage control, field amputation, and RE-BOA are catalysts to the R-SICK design; however, the demand for rapidly-deployable field instruments has always existed. The R-SICK was created for operator personalization and to facilitate mitigation of time-sensitive injuries. The R-SICK was designed with mission ready materials needed for the difficulties that lie ahead. Available in both Floor Grade and OR Grade quality instruments that can be sterilized by the clinician as needed.

Rapid Surgical Intervention Convenience Kit (R-SICK), Floor Grade

The R-SICK was specifically designed as a flexible austere and prolonged field care surgical instrument storage and recovery system tray sequentially set up to prepare the proceduralists for rapid incision, spreading, damage control, and closure. Complex, emergent procedures surgical airways, hemorrhage control, field amputation, and REBOA are catalysts to the R-SICK design; however, the demand for rapidly-deployable field instruments has always existed. The R-SICK was created for operator personalization and to facilitate mitigation of time-sensitive injuries. The R-SICK was designed with mission ready materials needed for the difficulties that lie ahead. Available in both Floor Grade and OR Grade quality instruments that can be sterilized by the clinician as needed.

Infant Resuscitator

The factory setting of the pressure limit valve is at 40cmH₂O (mbar). The pressure limit valve can limit the pressure in the pipe. The upper limit must be adjusted if necessary, otherwise, the pressure in the pipe will not surpass 40cmH₂O (mbar).

Unit of measurement: On the resuscitation devices, "cmH₂O" and "mbar" represent pressure. And on some other devices "hPa" is the unit of measurement. Since 1 mbar is equal to 1hPa and is also equal to 1.016 cmH₂O, they can be used reciprocally.

All performance figures listed above are representative only and PEEP values will change with the different PIP values set.
